MAYOR HINTON CELEBRATES 80TH BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

The old adage, "We are always young till we get old," will well apply to Paris' progressive Mayor, Mr. John T. Hinton, who, on Sunday, celebrated the eightieth anniversary of his advent upon this world of trouble and woe.

The event was the occasion of a family gathering at a dining given at Mayor Hinton's home, on High street, where, surrounded at the festal board by members of his immediate family connections and a few invited guests, Mr. Hinton was congratulated upon the fact that he was really younger than he looked, and apparently good for many more years of usefulness to the community, to himself and to the county. Although retired from active business life and "out of politics" Mr. Hinton has all the vigor and activity of mind and body which will not let him give up entirely interest in the welfare of the city and the citizens of Paris.

The guests present and partaking in the pleasures of the gathering were: Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hinton, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. O. Hinton, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. T. Hinton, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hinton, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar T. Hinton, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. W. Hinton, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hinton, Miss Bertha Hinton, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Turney, Jr., Miss Elmira Hinton, Mr. Ed. T. Brown, Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Ellis and Miss Mary Ellis.

BOURBON TAXPAYERS PROTEST AGAINST EXTRA SESSION.

At a mass meeting of the taxpayers of Bourbon county, held in the court house, at Paris, Kentucky, on January 27, 1917, the following resolution was adopted:

1st. It is the sense of this meeting that an extra session of the Legislature would incur a great expense to the taxpayers of the State.

2nd. It would be unjust to the great farming interests of this State to take action on pending legislation before said interest shall be fully advised of the terms and study the effect of such legislation as regards said interest.

3rd. Therefore, Be It Resolved, That we respectfully petition the Honorable Governor of this State not to call an extraordinary session of the Legislature.

4th. Be It Further Resolved, That this meeting appoint a committee to present this petition to the Governor of the State.

"CROSDALE'S"

Geo. H. Crosdale, the originator of first-class epicurian-inviting and high-toned establishments in Paris, is, with his usual vim and determination, and the assistance and co-operation of his good wife, fast developing his new quarters, and proposes to make the same the most pleasing and acceptable of his career as an efficient caterer.

Popular in price, popular in tone, popular in the pleasing affability and hospitality accorded every guest, popular in his system and methods in keeping abreast of the times and making the various features and appointments of his hostelry such, from a sanitary, eye-catching attractive source, as to be most commendable and irresistible and finally his equitable commercial course in looking to the volume of business, and not to the individual, to determine his profits, cannot but appeal to one and all alike. He has the whole building occupied and while the same is a private hostelry, owing to its limitations, those who find accommodations there will, we think, be ever loud in their praise and sincere endorsement.

Table boarders taken, also roomers; baths on each floor; gas heat in every room; everything cheery and exceptionally comfortable, and where every attempt is made to make you feel at home. Card parties, receptions and all special pertaining to his line, are duly catered to. Come in socially or commercially and let us become acquainted.

KITCHEN RANGE AND OPEN GRATE CLAIM TWO VICTIMS.

Florence Burris, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Burris, was badly burned Saturday morning at the home of her parents in Winchester, when her clothing caught fire from an open grate. The child was standing with her back to the grate, when her clothing caught fire. She was burned from the thighs to the neck. Mrs. Burris discovered her child's plight and beat out the flames with her hands, which were badly burned.

Elizabeth McPherson, aged four, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. McPherson, of Winchester, was badly burned and had a narrow escape from death by the explosion of a gas oven in the kitchen range at her parents' home. Her forehead, cheeks and lips were badly burned, and her eyebrows and hair burned off. Her mother, who was near her at the time, extinguished the flames. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

ROY BORLAND DIES IN CINCINNATI HOSPITAL

Mr. S. E. Borland, of this city, received a long distance call from Cincinnati, Saturday morning, and, upon answering, was informed that his son, Mr. Roy Borland, who had been working at his trade, that of house painter, in Cincinnati, had died in the General Hospital, on Sunday night, a week ago.

The call was from the wife of the contractor for whom young Borland worked, and stated that, upon Borland's failure to show up for work at the usual time, his employer inquired at the places where he usually passed his time when not at work, but met with the response at each place that Borland had not been seen around for several days. He then followed a clue that led him to the General Hospital in Cincinnati, where he learned that on the morning of Tuesday, January 16, a young man answering Borland's description had been brought to the Hospital, for special treatment, but that he gave his place of residence as Pittsburg, Pa.

Young Borland was there several days under treatment, dying on the night of Sunday, January 21. The Hospital authorities communicated with people in Pittsburg, to know what to do with the remains, but met with no response. The body was placed in the Morgue in Cincinnati, to await identification. As nothing was known of Borland's home being in Paris, his relatives here knew nothing of his death until Mr. Borland was notified by telephone Saturday, one week after his son's death in the Hospital. The Hospital authorities knew only what Borland had told them as to his home, and could not be supposed to know anything of his family connections here. No further details were given in the case by the attaches of the Hospital. Attorney P. A. Thompson, of Paris, was in Cincinnati, Sunday, and visited the Hospital, where he learned substantially the facts narrated above. Mr. S. E. Borland left for Cincinnati, Sunday, to take charge of the body, which will probably be brought here for burial. Mr. S. E. Borland formerly resided in Pittsburg.

Young Borland is survived by his wife and three children, his father, Mr. S. E. Borland, and two sisters, Mrs. Pearce Paton and Mrs. Hord Mann, all of Paris.

WE KNOW HOW

YOUR HEALTH Is More Important Than Your Money

Protect Your Health and You Will Have Both.

DUOFOLD UNDERWEAR

the kind that is not too heavy, but is made with a light layer of cotton next to the skin and another layer of fine woven Australian wool on the outside, which does not scratch and irritate the skin, but prevents the cold from penetrating through the garment. It does not leave a damp moisture between the skin and the undergarments. This is one of the principal causes of colds. The body becomes chilled from the moisture and many deep colds and cases of grippe start in this way. Wear Duofold Health Underwear, the only safeguard against sickness. We have all sizes, both in union suits and two-piece garments. $3.50 and $4.00.
